RESOURCE CENTER

LUNG CANCER SUPPORT GROUP

Sponsored by the
Ann and John Nickoll Family
Lung Cancer Support Program

Living with lung cancer and related treatments can be very demanding for patients and their families. This group provides an opportunity to meet others in similar situations to share your stories, provide practical suggestions, and support each other. In addition, an Oncology Social Worker provides information and skills for relaxation, navigating the healthcare system, finding needed resources, and coping with day to day challenges, such as breathlessness. Issues related to the stigma of lung cancer, fear and anxiety, and keeping a positive outlook are discussed. Both patients and their caregivers are welcome to attend.

When: Weekly on Wednesdays
12:00 pm - 1:30 pm
Lunch is provided

Where: 200 UCLA Medical Plaza - Room 547
(In collaboration with the UCLA Oncology Center)

To register, please call Tom Pier, LCSW at 310-794-6363

The group is free and open to the public with priority given to UCLA patients
